I've Fallen for this Man! So How Do I Get Up?

Chances are the relationship failed, not only because of sexual immorality, but because your actions prove you are obsessed with the idea of being in love with a man, more than God, which provokes Him to jealousy. It's not that He does not want to give you the desires of your heart, but there is an established order we must follow. Revelations 2:4 "I see your good, but I have something against thee. You have left your "First Love"". There is no way to get around the Matthew 6:33 principle. It teaches to seek God first—then all things will be added to our lives. Page 53

Live Live Live

You can dance. Because music is also a form of worship, it is the lyrics of a song, how you respond and the way you dance, you must be careful of. Page 17

If the core of your existence is a chain of complicated or broken relationships, you're missing heaven's timing for your life. God is saying "Stop acting as if you are married. You are single—enjoy". Page 17

We're Not Enemies

The human race was created so one gender could not exist without the other. Though we are opposites, God's plan was not for men and women to be divided or against one another.

Premarital sex is the root and culprit cause of division between men and women. God wants us to follow His example of how to love. Then we are spared unnecessary pain and consequences. Page 2

Let Your Choice Reflect God's Will

A person of sound mind rejects foolishness. Many have gone insane due to sin and poor choices they've made. You don't believe me. Here is proof. Is it sane or insane, to try to develop or stay in a relationship with someone whose actions convey he does not love or want you, disrespects and makes you unhappy, and disrupts your peace or causes you pain? Page 6

Why Do My Relationships Fail?

Sometimes failure is hard to accept, but is what God uses to redirect our steps, when we are set on having our way. Page 24

The bible teaches singles are to care for the things of God (1 Corinthians 7:33). When they neglect to do so, life obeys spiritual order and the desires of their heart are placed on hold, until they learn. Page 24

He hasn't forgotten about you, but remembering the reason you were created. The ultimate reason relationships fail, is making choices that are detrimental to our future. Page 26

When loneliness strikes, it can influence Brothers and Sisters in Christ, to disregard biblical instruction and commit "spiritual incest" with one another. Page 25

Destiny is Calling Your Name

God would not send a man that calls you names, does not honor, love or respect you. However, the adversary of your peace and soul—would. Page 9

The bible uses King Saul, as an example, to teach what can happen, when people dabble in the occult. Rather than using a prophet, King Saul consulted with a witch (one who summoned spirits from the dead, impersonating God's power) then lost all that he had and his life, because of it (1 Chronicles 10:13).

When dealing with forces other than God, there is always a price to pay. The consequence could cause you to experience hardship and possibly hinder or destroy present day or future blessings. Your actions can also affect future generations. Even if you don't believe me, is your life or happiness worth the risk? Of course, not. If you are guilty, there is still hope. Just repent and leave the occult alone! If you want spiritual guidance go to a reputable church that has prophets. Page 63

How to Tell the Right Man

If you have to change to become a version of what a man thinks you should be, more than likely he is not “the right one”. Page 47

Pay Attention

Leviticus 19:31, 20:6, 20:27 warns God is not pleased with people that conjure or use love potions, participate in casting spells or consult with familiar spirits. There is always a counterfeit to whatever God creates that defies or counters His purpose. He uses the prophetic anointing to instruct and guide His people. Do not complicate your life by involving yourself with or consulting psychics, readers, horoscopes, the practice of witchcraft, channeling or calling spirits from the dead, board or Internet games involving sorcery or fortune telling of any kind. We are supposed to trust God and live by faith. The prophetic voice echoes direction from God. These practices imitate the power of the prophetic gift, but are strengthened by what is called “familiar spirits”. Most people do not realize these powers come from a source other than Him. They seduce and release demonic forces and activity into your life.

God is the Same

Three wills are involved when making decisions. God’s “perfect will”, which establishes His plan and then there is His “permissive will”, tied to lessons to learn. Lastly, there is “your will”. You’ve already done all you know and can, and nothing has changed. Regardless of how much we think we want or need a particular man, you have to come into the realization that failure preserves destiny’s plan. Page 28

Dealing with Rejection

If your natural father has a history of being womanizer and you find yourself repeatedly being misused and rejected by men you care for, a legalistic spirit may be at work. Page 3

How to Pray for A Mate

It is more than right to pray and ask God for a mate. Unfortunately, many women miss the mark and pray, “Lord, I can’t take it anymore”, “Send me a man right now”, kind of prayer. They don’t understand God is waiting for them to elevate their thinking and faith, develop a strong prayer life, which helps to strengthen their patience. Page 29

Strongholds and Things You Should Repent For

Abortion People, who had any part or dealing with an abortion, and did not repent, may find it difficult to realize their dreams. You see abortion not only kills God's purpose for a life, but the dreams He planted in the infant's soul. After his or her death, the principle of sowing and reaping will go into effect. It is necessary to repent and then seek God in prayer concerning which direction you should go. Thank God for Jesus, who paid the price, so we would not be condemned and our dreams could surface to reality. Though you may have regret, don't despair. You will see your child in heaven after you finish your journey. Page 40

How to Tell the Right Man

The right man's priority is to protect and hold you above life storms. He will honor and respect you and will not use you as a casual sexual release. He has the ability to take you to higher heights and deeper depths of God's favor (Ecclesiastes 4:9). He is aware of the spiritual warfare and ready to fight demonic forces, not you. He has made a successful transition from male conquered by the will of his flesh, to resurrected man who reflects God's image. Page 46

Being alone, when you don't want to be, makes you vulnerable to an extent. Beware of wolves in sheep's clothing. Men have ulterior motives when controlled by lust. The list is long comprised of not only ungodly single men, but those who commit adultery. Men of power and influence such as politicians, entrepreneurs, including wayward pastors, can ruin your life when controlled by forces other than God. Page 47

Reenact Eve's conduct—don't chase a man. Study him and listen to what he says. Allow his actions to reveal the contents of his heart. Every good and perfect gift comes from above. Page 49

Be Anxious for Nothing and True to Yourself

The truth is at the end of the day, you don't know what the future holds, but God does. To ensure the well-being of you and your children, He wants you to come into your own before you marry. So stop wasting precious time and love on males, who are not a part of your Creator's plan. Loneliness can make a woman a poor steward over her life. Women need to learn how to be still from pursuing romantic encounters until God's appointed time. Page 52
